

DIGITAL ART DIRECTOR

HMH is a creative marketing communications agency offering brand strategy, advertising, public relations, digital services, design and media planning/buying. We are united by our desire to apply creativity and smart thinking to every project we touch. We believe in the power of originality, strategy and, of course, fun.

We currently have an opening for a Digital Art Director in our Portland, Oregon, office. Here's a bit of what we're looking for:

- At least five years of agency experience as a digital art director, working with major national brands online
- Recent experience with digital art direction including websites, email campaigns, banner ads and integration with offline campaigns
- Four-year degree in visual arts preferred
- This position is in our Portland, Oregon, office

Think we might be a match? We'd love to hear from you. Send a resume, references and digital portfolio to resumes@thinkhmh.com, attn: Digital Art Director. No phone calls please.

